DETAILED ACTION

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 103

1. The following is a quotation of 35 U.S.C. 103(a) which forms the basis for all obviousness rejections set forth in this Office action:

(a) A patent may not be obtained though the invention is not identically disclosed or described as set forth in section 102 of this title, if the differences between the subject matter sought to be patented and the prior art are such that the subject matter as a whole would have been obvious at the time the invention was made to a person having ordinary skill in the art to which said subject matter pertains. Patentability shall not be negated by the manner in which the invention was made.

2. The text of those sections of Title 35, U.S. Code not included in this action can be found in a prior Office action.

Claims 1-5 and 7-10 are rejected under 35 USC §103(a). This rejection is set forth in the prior Office action mailed on June 15, 2006,

Response to Arguments

3. Applicant's arguments filed on September 15, 2006 have been fully considered but they are not persuasive.

Applicants argue that Brink does not teach the separation of the gas(es) and the coke, solid residues, before the gasification and that Hess does not teach pyrolysis but a wet carbonization. Furthermore, the wet carbonization of Hess is not compatible with the Pyrolysis of Brink and therefore, there would not be motivation to combine and even if they would the results would not be the claimed invention. The examiner respectfully disagrees for the following reasons:

- The Hess invention has been used for the teaching of the separation of the gases from the solid residues after spent liquor is treated in ways to form gases and solid residues, i.e., pyrolysis or wet carbonization would be for the purpose the same /similar processes, and the benefits of the separation was stated in the previous office action.

- References do not have to be physically combinable in order to be used for specific teachings. “The test for obviousness is not whether the features of a secondary reference may be bodily incorporated into the structure of the primary reference.... Rather, the test is what the combined teachings of those references would have suggested to those of ordinary skill in the art.” In re Keller, 642 F.2d 413, 425, 208 USPQ 871, 881 (CCPA 1981). See also In re Sneed, 710 F.2d 1544, 1550, 218 USPQ 385, 389 (Fed. Cir. 1983) (“[I]t is not necessary that the inventions of the references be physically combinable to render obvious the invention under review.”); and In re Nievelt, 482 F.2d 965, 179 USPQ 224, 226 (CCPA 1973) (“Combining the teachings of references does not involve an ability to combine their specific structures.”).

Therefore, the combination of Brink and Hess teaches the Pyrolysis of the spent liquor, the separation of the gases before the gasification of the solid residues, i.e., coke.

Conclusion

4. THIS ACTION IS MADE FINAL. Applicant is reminded of the extension of time policy as set forth in 37 CFR 1.136(a).

A shortened statutory period for reply to this final action is set to expire THREE MONTHS from the mailing date of this action. In the event a first reply is filed within TWO MONTHS of the mailing date of this final action and the advisory action is not mailed until after the end of the THREE-MONTH shortened statutory period, then the shortened statutory period will expire on the date the advisory action is mailed, and any extension fee pursuant to 37 CFR 1.136(a) will be calculated from the mailing date of the advisory action. In no event, however, will the statutory period for reply expire later than SIX MONTHS from the mailing date of this final action.
